

Food Vendor Interest Form

The Tennessee Valley Old Time Fiddlers Convention seeks to offer a wide variety of food offerings. Each year, due to the limited number of food vendor spaces, any new food vendor with an interest in being considered for the event should submit this Food Vendor Interest Form.

Payment Method: All food vendors are part of a collective fundraising effort for the Student Activities Office at Athens State University. Therefore, the food vendor participation fee is a 25% gross profit share that is retained by the university. Gross profit is the profit a company makes after deducting the costs associated with producing and selling its products or the costs associated with its services.

Types of Food Vendors: With limited space, hearty food options from vendors that can offer more than a single item are generally sought, the exception would be ice cream and kettle corn. No homemade canned goods of any kind are permitted per health department regulations. No vendor will be permitted to sell cotton candy as that is sold exclusively by the university's students.

Please answer the following questions:

Name of Vendor: _____

Include website/Facebook Page link if you have one: _____

Contact Person: _____ Contact Phone #: _____

Contact Email: _____

What type of food items do you offer?

Do you hold a Health Department food permit? (The event also gets a Health Department Exemption)

Do you hold liability insurance? _____

What is the size of your operation/trailer/truck/setup (what is the smallest size you can operate within)?

How much power do you require (the convention will supply one 20-amp outlet)?

Do you run a generator, and if so how loud is it? _____

Any items you would like to provide about your operation?

Be sure to save your completed form to retain your responses.

Very Important Notice:

By submitting this form you are only stating you are interested in being a food vendor. This form does not guarantee a food vendor will be selected for the event. If there is a need to fill a space for the convention, a representative from the university will contact interested food vendors to speak with them about their operations. This form should be returned to Amy.Garrison@athens.edu.